

Propose Compulsory Health Bill To Solons

Would Put 120,000,000 Under Plan

Washington, April 25—(AP)—Legislation designed to put about 120,000,000 Americans under President Truman's compulsory health insurance program started down a rocky road in Congress today.

Sponsors introduced the administration bill in the Senate and House. They said it would earmark about $6,000,000,000 a year to finance the insurance plan to provide medical, dental and hospital care, eyeglasses, hearing aids and other services. Employees' paychecks and employer's payrolls would be taxed to pay for it.

The omnibus bill also would carry out the other phases of the health program which Mr. Truman outlined to Congress last week. Those included:

Aid Medical Education

Federal grants for medical education, public health services, hospital construction, general medical and child life research, and an experimental program of grants to farmers' health cooperatives.

Even the backers of the bill said there is scarcely any chance Congress will get around to final action on it at this session. They look for a showdown next year, or possibly this fall if the president should call a special session.

The administration bill was introduced only a few hours after a new attack by the American Medical Association on the insurance plan. Dr. Elmer H. Henderson, chairman of the AMA board, said the program "would regiment doctors and patients alike under a vast bureaucracy of political administrators, clerks, bookkeepers and lay committees."

Henderson contended adoption of the program would "turn back the clock of medical progress in this country fifty years."

Foes of the plan call it "socialized medicine."

The insurance program would cover about 85 per cent of the nation's population, including farmers, the sponsors said. Farmers are one of the main groups not covered by the present social security program.

Specifically excluded from the health insurance program are railroad workers (they are covered by their own retirement law), the clergy and federal and state employees.

The insurance plan would be financed by a three per cent payroll tax split between workers and employers, on income up to $4,800 a year. That means that a person making $4,800 a year would be taxed $72. His employer would contribute an equal amount.

A worker getting only $2,400 a year would pay $36 into the insurance fund. So would his employer. The self-employed would be taxed the full three per cent.

Israel's Newcomers Bring Employment, Housing Problems

Tel Aviv, Israel, April 25—(AP)—Israel's housing and employment problems brought a second day of demonstrations today.

Truckloads of men rode through the streets shouting in Hebrew, "we want work."

Yesterday a group picketed government headquarters carrying signs which said, "we want work."

In both cases the demonstrators were newly arrived immigrants housed in the former Arab communities of Ramle, Lydda and Jaffa where there is no industry as yet and few jobs. The government has been trying to distribute the immigrants more evenly over the country, but is hampered by the lack of housing at most places.

Immigrants have been arriving at a rate of 20,000 to 25,000 a month.

Dies Of Monoxide Poison In Hearse

Havre De Grace, Md., April 25—(AP)—Police pieced the story together in this way:

James Giles, 38-year-old negro, had been doing a little Saturday night drinking.

On his way home he got chilly. So he opened the door of the garage where his former employer, John Tarring, stored his limousines.

Giles got into one of the closed vehicles, and turned on the motor to get warm.

Police found him today, stretched out in the vehicle—dead. Carbon monoxide from the motor had killed him, they said.

The vehicle was a hearse. Giles' ex-boss is an undertaker.

World Peace Congress Asks Atomic Bomb Ban

Paris, April 25—(AP)—The World Peace congress tonight decided to establish a permanent organization on common front lines to fight the United States in a propaganda war.

The 2,000 delegates at a closing session voted unanimously for a resolution for creation of a world-wide committee which will carry on agitation against "actions which menace the peace" or "infringe on national independence."

For six days speakers at the communist-sponsored meeting have declared that the Atlantic pact and Truman doctrine are menaces to peace and the Marshall plan a violation of the independence of the countries participating in it. American "warmongers" and leaders have been pictured as the chief opponents of peace and Russia as the true friend of peace.

A manifesto adopted by the congress demanded the outlawing of the atomic bomb, and a boycott of all books, films, press and personalities considered to favor propaganda for a new war.

It condemned military alliances colonialism and the "rearmament of western Germany and Japan."

The manifesto omitted any reference to the civil war in China but denounced the conflicts in Greece, Indonesia and Malaya.

Creation of the permanent committee followed the forecast of communist writers that a world "rally of peace partisans" would be set up. The committee was given six tasks, including the preparation of the

Man Loses $1,900 To Three Crooks In Old Hanky Trick

Rockford, Ill., April 25—(AP)—Three confidence game operators took Ben H. Seaton, an engineer in a furniture factory for his life savings of $1,900 Saturday.

Seaton was victim of an ancient scheme known as the handkerchief, or tin box trick. The Rockford operators used the hanky version.

Three strangers struck up an acquaintance with Seaton outside his rooming house. When one of them displayed a large amount of money, Seaton cautioned him against carrying so much.

The man, "Mr. Clark," said he had to carry it. If he put it in a bank, he wouldn't be able to draw it out for 60 days, he said. Seaton disagreed, saying a depositor could draw his money any time.

"Mr. Clark" bet $500 Seaton couldn't. Another of the men bet $20. The four of them went to the bank and Seaton came out with his $1,900.

At a restaurant "Mr. Clark" and his friend paid off and put their money with Seaton's. "Clark" said it would be safer if the money were wrapped up and took the roll to the washroom. He returned and gave Seaton a package with a newspaper wrapping.

The men remembered another appointment. Before leaving they told Seaton they wanted to talk with him and urged him to wait. When they didn't return in a few hours, he went home. There he opened the package and found it contained only strips of torn newspaper.

Johnson Will Be Arraigned For Gun Fight With G-Men

Indianapolis, April 25—(AP)—FBI agents said today they would seek arraignment here of Clyde Milton Johnson, who was wounded last Thursday night in a running gun fight in downtown Indianapolis.

Johnson exchanged shots with agents who had been searching for him since the $43,000 robbery of a bank at Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 8. He was shot twice and one bullet still remains in his chest.

Doctors at General hospital described him as "doing very well," although his condition is still listed as critical.

A charge of assaulting a federal agent has been filed against Johnson in federal court here. Harvey G. Foster, agent in charge of the local FBI office, said arraignment of Johnson on this charge would be sought here although eventually he may be brought to trial in connection with the Memphis robbery.

DEADLINE FOR PAYING TAXES POSTPONED

Chicago, April 25—(AP)—A one month postponement of the May 1 property and real estate tax payment deadline for Cook county residents was ordered today.

Superior Judge Frank M. Padden re-set the deadline for payment of the first half of current taxes to June 1. He found many taxpayers are receiving their bills late.

Says Farm Program Will Give Farmers Fair Return

Washington, April 25—(AP)—The administration's new farm program is aimed primarily at giving the farmer a fair return—not keeping food prices to consumers down, secretary of agriculture Brannan said today.

If too much food were produced, down would come the housewife's grocery bill; but it is "not a consumer subsidy proposal," Brannan told the House Agriculture committee.

The government would try to administer its controls in such a way, he said, that just enough food is produced. It would aim for amounts just slightly above what consumers would buy at support prices.

The big difference to the consumer would be this: under present law the government now buys food surpluses to keep the prices paid farmers up. Brannan proposes instead to let such surpluses force

Senate Okays Bill Giving CCC Crop Storage Facilities

Washington, April 25—(AP)—The Senate today approved by voice vote a bill giving the Commodity Credit Corporation authority to acquire a nationwide system of storage facilities for farm crops.

The bill now goes to the House. It provides also for bartering surplus U.S. wheat, cotton and other farm products for strategic materials from foreign nations.

The bill, however, can only be carried out to the extent approved by the munitions board and for only such strategic materials as required by the board of stockpiling.

The bill was passed after four hours of debate during which the authority of the board to acquire storage facilities was restricted to:

1. Exclude cotton and tobacco storage and refrigerated cold storage facilities.
2. Require the CCC to determine that privately owned storage facilities within a given area are not adequate before going ahead to acquire new or establish facilities.

Packard Reports Normal Production After Flash Strike

Detroit, April 25—(AP)—Packard Motor Car Co. reported production back to normal today after a two-hour blitzkrieg strike.

The strike, first full-scale walk-out to hit a major auto firm this year, evidently accomplished its purpose.

Representatives of the company and the CIO United Auto Workers held an unorthodox early morning meeting as 70 pickets ringed the packard plant.

Local 190, said the company signed a written agreement on 16 disputed points.

He said they included (1) reinstatement of five or six discharged workers; (2) permission for another to resign; (3) permission for the union bargaining committee to enter the plant and (4) an investigation of alleged health hazards within 60 days.

Only a 200-man skeleton crew was left by the strike. The full work force of 9,000 was on the job today, the company said.

U.S. Drops Claims Totalling $375,000 Against Man, Wife

Chicago, April 25—(AP)—The government today dropped claims totalling more than $375,000 against a prohibition era bootlegger and his wife.

Collector of Internal Revenue John T. Jarecki filed a release of a lien for income taxes against Hyman M. Wainer, whose address was given as New London, Wis., and his wife, Julie, (1216 N. Leavitt street), Chicago. The releases were filed in the county recorder's office.

The lien against Wainer was for income taxes totalling $309,651.79 for the years 1929 through 1932. That against Mrs. Wainer was for $74,194.63 for 1932.

H. G. Wildfang, chief of the legal department for the revenue section, did not say whether the liens were released because of a compromise settlement or because the statute of limitations for collection of the taxes had elapsed.

RUSSIAN SECTOR COPS SENTENCED TO PRISON

Berlin, April 25—(AP)—Two Russian sector German policemen were sentenced to a year in prison today for letting hoodlums men steal their pistols.

A Soviet sector court, reported the Russian-licensed news agency ADN, found the pair had surrendered their guns to four armed bandits.

The court, said ADN, reminded the policemen sternly that they had the task of "protecting the new democracy."

Reds Slowly Advance Toward South China

UMW Heads Shape Up New Contract Demands

Washington, April 25—(AP)—John L. Lewis and his 200-man policy committee shaped new contract demands today with four major goals: More pay, shorter hours, equalized employment, and greater safety in the pits.

At least a half dozen more objectives were approved by the United Mineworkers' October convention. But none of them were specified.

Lewis has preferred in recent negotiations to keep the coal operators guessing about what he wants until he meets them face to face.

The present one-year agreement expires June 30. Talks leading toward a new pact are expected to start in the next month.

Lewis and his advisory group went over a multitude of union problems, some only indirectly connected with the forthcoming contract negotiations.

The UMW boss reviewed the economic picture and reported on recent financial transactions of the union.

The union has acquired another Washington office building and there have been unconfirmed reports that the UMW also has taken over control of the National Bank of Washington, oldest such institution in the nation's capital.

Lewis left the policy committee meeting for this at mid-day. The board of directors of the National Bank of Washington met today and installed Barnum Colton as its new president. Colton has been friendly to Lewis and his former position as vice president of the bank. The UMW has kept its multi-million dollar welfare and retirement fund in this bank.

Russia Will Lift Blockade For Date Of Big 4 Meeting

London, Tuesday, April 26—(AP)—Russia has agreed to lift the Berlin blockade if the western powers will set a date for a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting on the German question, Tass said today.

The Soviet view as given by Tass, the official Soviet news agency, was that the western occupation authorities simultaneously must lift their counter-blockade of the Soviet zone of Germany and the Soviet sector of Berlin.

In a statement datelined Moscow and distributed in London, Tass said the Soviet delegate to the United Nations Security Council, J. A. Malik, had given Russia's view to the U. S. delegate, Dr. Philip C. Jessup, at the U. N. March 21.

Vandenberg States Russia's Leaders Hold Key To Peace

New York, April 25—(AP)—Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.) declared tonight that Russia's leaders hold the key to world peace, and he blue-printed a method whereby they could assure that peace.

The Kremlin leaders could produce an effect more powerful than "our whole storehouse of atom bombs," he said, if they were to announce:

1. "That communism is ready to drop its plans for external conquest and subversion;
2. "That the politburo is truly ready for mutual, good-faith efforts to create a liveable world in which free self-determination shall decide any nation's accepted ideology;
3. "And that effectively disciplined, adequately supervised, universal disarmament shall be the world's progressive goal on a new agenda of hope for the people of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and for all the other people in a friendly world."

Asks Mayor To Go Home So They Can Bring Out 'Slots'

East Moline, Ill., April 25—(AP)—Suppose you are the mayor. And you and your wife are at the country club's spring formal dance. And along about midnight some of the members slide up to you and say:

"Hey, why don't you go home so we can have some fun with the slots?"

Mayor B. H. Ryan of East Moline said he went home when that happened Saturday night at the Short Hills club.

But he came back—with two policemen.

When he did—the slot machines were going at a merry clip. Ryan told the cops to haul one of the gadgets into headquarters.

The mayor told the story today in police court. He said a cluio of official called him before he went to the dance and asked whether it would be okay to operate the slots, just during the dance. But the mayor told him:

"Absolutely no. It's against the law."

Endurance Fliers Near Flight's End

Fullerton, Calif., April 25—(AP)—As they approached a record six weeks in the air, Dick Riedel and Bill Harris had only hours and a missing tail wheel to concern them tonight.

At 11:44 a. m. (Pacific standard time) tomorrow, they plan to land after reaching 1,008 hours in the air.

"They're confident they can land without trouble, despite the loss of their tail wheel. It fell off during their Miami and Tampa, Fla., during their non-stop cross-country hop."

U.S. Navy Will Leave Shanghai

By Fred Simpson

Shanghai, April 25—(AP)—Chinese communists slogged thru the rain ten miles northwest of Shanghai tonight, but secrecy covered their major maneuver aimed at trapping 300,000 government troops against the sea south of this city.

The U. S. Consulate warned American citizens that the U. S. Navy planned to move from its Shanghai anchorage to avoid involvement in the civil war and that if they wanted to go aboard they must do so quickly. There was no large response from the nearly 2,500 Americans in Shanghai.

The Shanghai garrison command ordered that only its official releases be published. George Vine, editor of the British-owned China Daily News and correspondent for International News Service, was among several editors picked up for questioning by the garrison.

The garrison's 9 p. m. announcement, first of a promised three-day through the official China Daily News Agency, acknowledged that Red troops had infiltrated to Nanh-jang, 10 miles northwest of Shanghai.

It denied widespread reports that the Reds had captured Kashing, 53 miles by air and 62 by rail southwest of Shanghai.

Kashing is the key to the trap operation. It is on the grand canal and is the junction of the Shanghai-Hangchow railway and of a line that runs miles north to intersect the Shanghai-Nanking railway at Soochow (Wuhsien).

The Shanghai command declared that trains through Kashing to and from Hangchow, were still operating. Hangchow, 121 miles by rail southwest of Shanghai, is the sea port and all base upon which national troops long have been expected to fall back for a new defense or retreat farther south.

Reinforcements at Soochow. The garrison command stated that Nanhjang, Kashing and Soochow all were in nationalist hands and that strong reinforcements had gone to Soochow, 50 miles west of Nanking. It acknowledged that the tracks leading on westward to communist-occupied Nanking had been torn up.

Shanghai's 5,000,000 population—the fourth greatest of any city in the world—listlessly awaited the communists at any time. There was none of the riotous disorder that shook Nanking Saturday before the communists entered Sunday. City schools were closed Monday.

There were reports that some government ammunition ships left Shanghai during darkness, but the waterfront appeared quiet.

Few troops were to be seen around Shanghai, and no fighting was reported.

The warning to Americans from U. S. Consul General John Cabot said that the Communist attacks on four British warships last week made it unwise to leave evacuation ships in vulnerable waters.

Reds Hint That US Ambassador Will Be Held In China

Washington, April 25—(AP)—Armed Chinese communist soldiers invaded the residence of Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart at Nanking early today and left a hint that he would be kept prisoner.

An embassy report to the state department said the soldiers on leaving told one of the servants that the 72-year-old envoy should not leave the residence compound. The order was not given to Stuart or any of his official staff, the report said.

The incident sharpened official concern over the safety of Americans remaining in the former nationalist capital after the communists occupied the city, and over the safety of 2,500 other Americans in Red-ruled Shanghai.

It also clouded plans to bring Stuart to Washington for a general review of American policy in China. Orders for his recall were disclosed by the state department only a few hours before word came that the communists had disregarded the immunity normally enjoyed by establishments of foreign governments.

ALL BUSINESS SHOWS GROWTH

All business and virtually every other phase of economic activity have grown with the economy in recent years, but Big Business, as it is popularly termed, has relatively grown least of all.

This is shown in government figures tracing the growth of the economy and its various components, personal as well as business, since pre-war. These figures go to prove that the biggest corporations, whatever their own increase in size, have anything but monopolized the growth of the economy in the last few years nor have they affected the progress of small or medium business. In general, economic opportunity still exists to as great a degree and to as wide an extent as ever before. As a matter of fact, authorities agree, and the records show, that the greatest threat to the so-called little fellow is economic stability and depressions.

Department of Commerce figures show that between 1939 and 1946 (the latest year for which complete data are available) the total assets of the nation's 200 largest manufacturing corporations increased in the aggregate by 41 percent, their sales by 100 percent, and their net profits after taxes by 61 percent.

In this same period, the aggregate assets of 800 other manufacturing corporations increased by 96 percent their sales by 148 percent and their net profits by 150 percent. Thus these 800 other corporations have grown substantially faster than the biggest corporations in the manufacturing field in the 1939-46 period—more than twice as fast in total assets and net profits after taxes, and about half again as fast in sales.

These 800 other corporations were selected by the Department of Commerce as a cross section of industry and not necessarily as the 800 next largest.

The fundamental fact of the matter is that the whole economy has grown at a record rate since 1939.

Easter Seal Sale In Morgan County Totals $2,186

The citizens of Morgan county purchased $2,186 worth of Easter seals during the 1949 campaign, according to announcement made by E. G. Pigott, chairman of the local sale, who added that returns are still coming in.

The drive, which opened March 17 and closed on Easter Sunday, was part of a nationwide campaign to raise funds to aid the country's handicapped persons. A large percentage of the money raised remained in Morgan county for treatment locally.

Since the beginning of the drive, 12 more persons have asked for physical therapy treatments, bringing to 16 the total number of persons now being treated by the local physical therapist, Mrs. Elizabeth Brangham.

Treatments are given on prescription from a physician for cerebral palsied children, polio victims, osteomyelitis, arthritis, paralytic strokes and fractures.

In his announcement, Mr. Pigott commended the citizens of Morgan county for their splendid support of this program. Although the drive is officially over, contributions are still being accepted. They may be sent to I. Weir Elliott, Jr., treasurer, Elliott State bank.

THE DOCTOR SAYSDiet, Injections Of Insulin Used To Treat Diabetes

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Nothing is more tragic than an accident to a small child which could have been prevented. About 5000 children between 1 and 4 years old are killed by accidents in the United States each year.

It may not ever be possible to prevent all of these accidents because so many different kinds are involved. The automobile is responsible for a great many—railroad trains and streetcars for a few more. Burns from playing with matches or upsetting hot fluids also account for a considerable number. Drowning, too, is a leading cause of fatal accidents.

Many accidental deaths can be avoided by keeping poisonous substances out of reach of children. Poison labels are of little value if they cannot be read.

Falls Common

A considerable number of deaths among children result from falling. Some children love to explore and so perhaps not all of these could be prevented. However, care in keeping windows and screens locked and warning children against dangerous exploration could certainly prevent some.

This picture of accidental deaths in children does not give the whole story by any means. They are many more tiny youngsters who are seriously injured by some kinds of accidents. Among older children accidents are also common, although caution develops with age.

Careful parents will guard in every possible way against mishaps which can produce death or injury to their children. Certainly a little more care in driving automobiles where children play and the use of other methods which may prevent serious accidental injury would be of tremendous help in the campaign.

With the great decrease in deaths and illness from the diseases which used to be common among children, such as smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and typhoid fever, accidents have zoomed to practically the top of the list as a killer of youth.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Question: Is there any drug which can be taken to reduce the thighs and legs?

Answer: Sorry, I do not know of any drug that would help in this way at all.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

COPYRIGHT BY GREENBERG PUBLISHERS
DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

XXXI

THEREFORE it was with consternation that I learned Major was being transferred immediately to Memphis. "Don't be a ninny," Rob said. "You don't have to let Roger live here. It's our house."

Ah, Der Tag, I thought. Looks like this time we're going to throw in together.

The Capners got a good early start on their journey, and so did Roger. A jeep stopped at our door. Out jumped two officers.

"It's Roger," I stage-whispered to Rob. "And a friend."

"So what?"

Here it was again; Rob had changed his mind and without so much as a hand signal. We were forever piling up on issues because of that obnoxious habit of his. Just when I thought we were in cahoots, I would be left holding the sack.

I thought of the time I simply had to accept an invitation to the house of acquaintances Rob found unbearably boring. He warned me to get him out of there by 10 o'clock at the very latest. Either that, or he wouldn't go. At 9:45, I began to lay the groundwork for our leave-taking. I had things under control and went up to get my coat. As I came down the stairs, Rob looked up in surprise. Instead of eagerly springing to his feet as I fully expected him to do, he held his seat and demanded to know where I was going. When I gave the old line about the headache, he called on the world to note whether there ever had been such a spoilsport before. Grumbling and complaining, he did go home with me.

When I upbraided him for leaving me out on a limb, he admitted he had forgotten asking me to get him out of there, and even said he had been having an unexpectedly pleasant time.

No, I wasn't entirely unprepared for Rob's change of heart toward Roger. But I'd had a change of heart; I was on the other end of the see-saw. I had grown tired of him. The novelty of watching him enjoy our possessions had worn off. He was more trouble than he was worth; his enterprising value had dropped below par. I didn't want him to move back in.

ROGER sailed into the house without stopping to ring the bell. He presented Colonel Hartwicke and said they had been up working most of the night, were in need of a shave and shower, and that he could think of no more pleasant place in which to have them than in our house.

"The Capners just left," I temporized, as though Roger didn't already know that. "I don't know in what condition they left things." "After B.O.Q.," Colonel Hartwicke laughed. "I'm sure they will seem glisteningly pure." It would have been interesting to me to hear the line Roger fed strangers before he brought them to our house—men who always accepted our hospitality as a matter of course. Colonel Hartwicke seemed a gentleman; he wouldn't have imposed; he must have been sold on the idea that he was conferring some sort of favor on us. Both he and Roger were so ceremonious and polite, I couldn't very well fail to play up to them; so I ran upstairs to see to fresh towels, soap, and a kasty setting to rights of the Capners' rooms.

Passing the front windows, I caught sight of Roger and Colonel Hartwicke carrying valises, foot lockers, and musette bags up the walk toward the open front door.

"Roger!" I called sharply. "You can't move in here." To support my vagary, I added, "We aren't going to rent rooms any longer."

That sounded like safe ground; Rob had once suggested it.

He slowed down long enough to look embarrassed for me. "How can we shave and bathe without equipment?" he asked in his tone of sweet reasonableness.

"Oh," I backed up, "that." But my brain wasn't fooled; it knew I was on thin ice. In fact, it spurred me to run down the stairs and meet the gentlemen.

WITH an air of indulging a trying child, Roger set down his load and motioned Colonel Hartwicke to do the same. They removed shaving things and clean duds—all for Roger, I noted; Colonel Hartwicke was evidently not going to change, but simply shave and maybe shower. I stood like a watchdog until the bags were closed again, and then I retired to the garden room to sputter to Rob while Roger took Colonel Hartwicke upstairs.

"He's not a bad guy," Rob said. "Frankly, since it's your idea—not mine, mind you—to let people roost here, I don't see any reason for you to discriminate against Roger. Throw out the whole kit and kaboodle if you want to. That'd be o.k. with me. But if you're going to let any of them stay, you might as well let Roger."

"You're crazy," I spluttered. "I'm fed up with being his flunky. It isn't enough he eats all his meals here as though they were his due, but before he left last time he was grousing at having to dump the garbage. And there hasn't been a drop of hot water since he moved in. He lies in his tub and lets the water run in and out until it comes ice cold from the hot side. Takes the tank an hour to warm up again."

"Cut that out," Rob barked. "And he'd get completely over drying the dishes. Always important documents to study, or tired from a tough day, or if I'd just take it easy and let them ride until he felt like helping, he'd be glad to. And all those dinner parties he stuck me with, I'm through. He can't live here," I said emphatically, thumping the table. (To Be Continued)

Class Of 27 Initiated Into K. Of C. Council

Author's Youth Provides Plot For "Glass Menagerie"

Tennessee Williams, former St. Louis boy who has become one of the most important new playwrights in the American theatre and is the author of the poignant drama "The Glass Menagerie," which is being given by the MacMurray College Little Theatre April 28 and 29, is frank to admit that his play's leading character, Amanda Wingfield, the mother who patently tries to cling to former gentility, derives from his own mother. Her crippled, frustrated daughter Laura is, with modifications, Williams' sister.

And, as a brief review of the author's own background readily suggests, Tom Wingfield, the restless young man who longs for beauty and adventure in his life but has to spend it working in a shoe warehouse is Tennessee Williams himself.

After an early childhood spent in Mississippi, Williams was still a small boy when his father was transferred from his shoe-salesman's job to one at a desk in St. Louis, the city in which "The Glass Menagerie" is set.

The room occupied by Williams' sister looked out on a narrow, dreary alleyway which the author named "Death Valley," for night after night stray cats, pursued by stray dogs, were cornered there and torn to pieces.

To relieve the melancholy of her surroundings, together they painted the furniture white, hung white curtains across the windows, and placed on shelves around the walls a collection of glass animals. It is this collection of glass objects which gives a literal meaning to the title of Williams' play.

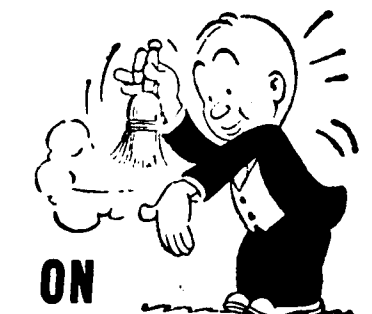

Youngster Suffers Sprained Ankle

Ronald Murphy, age five, suffered a badly sprained left ankle early Sunday evening when his foot became entangled in his bicycle.

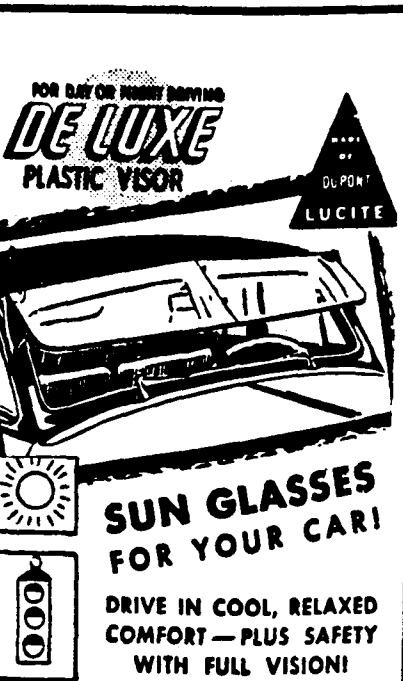

The youngster was brought to Our Saviour's hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Harold Norris. He was then permitted to return home.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murphy, rural route three, Virginia.

9 Of Kramer's Left Over Autos Bring $18,005

Jerseyville—The sale of automobiles in the bankruptcy proceeding of Arthur Kramer was held at the Baughman Manufacturing Company building Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The cars were part of the assets of Kramer turned over to the receiver following the filing of bankruptcy proceedings early last October. Nine Chevrolets and one Cadillac were in the sale.

Long before the announced time for the sale to begin, a large number of interested people had assembled in the street east of the Baughman building. It was conservatively estimated that more than one thousand were present for the auction and of this number fully fifty per cent were parties from a distance.

Conversation in the crowd revealed that many of those in attendance were parties who had made deposits on cars with Kramer, and they had returned to the locality just to determine for themselves how conditions were proceeding.

A lump bid for the nine Chevrolets and the Cadillac had been received, the amount being $17,100. Following this bid the cars were auctioned off separately with the understanding that if they brought less in this manner, the party making the bid for the entire lot would receive all ten of the cars at the $17,100 figure.

The separate bid procedure brought the most, however, the total in this manner being $18,005. Delivery of the cars must wait another ten days it was stipulated until the sale is approved by the court.

Right now you should have a new portrait. Your family and friends want it—business often demands it.

Crimson Nine Handed First Loss Of Season By Beardstown Club

Bob Kraushaar's fine Jacksonville high school baseball team came out on the short end of the score for the first time this year. The Crimson nine dropped a tight 5-2 tilt to Nick Carter's Beardstown athletes on the river-town's sod yesterday afternoon.

The bout was just revenge for the Beardstown crew since they were administered an 8-3 licking by the locals in the season's lid after their last April 6. Since then the Kraushaar men have run up an impressive string of 5 victories, among them include wins over I.S.D. and Routh, the two other local prep baseball teams.

The striped jug, emblematic trophy of victory which has passed between Jacksonville and Beardstown for more than a decade, again changed hands as the Tigers scored their win. The locals held it for a very short period this trip, since they had only re-gained it with their baseball win of April 6th, after losing the trophy last year.

Beardstown Gains 3-0 Lead

Beardstown scored two runs in the opening inning and added another tally in the second to slip into a 3-0 lead before the Crimson forces could get organized. The host nine added two more runs in the fifth inning, meanwhile holding the Jacksonville outfit to a goose-egg in the run department.

Kraushaar's boys finally solved Beardstown hurler Yost's delivery and pounced on him for three hits and two runs in their half of the sixth inning to mark their only tallies in the ball game. Successive hits by Williams, Bunch and Walker, followed with a long fly by Fanning, climaxed the J.H.S. outfit's scoring efforts.

Freshmen tossers, Gano and Wright, split the pitching chores for the locals, while Yost went the

Gehrmann Sets New Mile Record In Kansas Relays

Lawrence, Kas., April 25—(P)—A Credit Don Gehrmann with the best performance in the outdoor mile thus far this season.

The 130-pound Wisconsin runner turned in a 4:10.1 mile in the Kansas relays Saturday, equalling a nine-year-old relay record.

His performance overshadowed the work of approximately 800 athletes from more than 50 colleges and universities participating in the 24th running of the annual meet.

Another lightweight, 120-pound Jerry Thompson of Texas, followed Gehrmann to the tape, but he was a good 30 yards behind. Thompson, the fastest miler in southwest conference history, set the pace for three and one-half of the four laps.

The relays mile record was set in 1940 by Blaine Rideout of North Texas State. Last year Gehrmann, the national collegiate 1,500 meter champion, won the Wanamaker mile in 4:09.5 in the Milwaukee games.

Two new relays records were set in the university class. Robert Walters, who was voted the outstanding athlete of the day, turned in a high jump mark of 6 feet 8.3-16 inches to better the old mark of 6 feet 8-16 inches set in 1938. Walters is from the University of Texas.

Oklahoma A. and M. bettered the two-mile relay mark, running the event in 7 minutes and 41 seconds. Wisconsin set the old mark of 7:44.7 last year.

The Oklahoma Aggies and the University of Missouri shared the unofficial team championship with 20 points each.

Bob Severance, senior attackman on the Syracuse University lacrosse squad, is serving his second season as captain.

Chisox, Doomed To AL Cellar, Surprise With Five Straight Wins

BY JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Hold off on those flowers—the patient is far from dead.

The patient, of course, is the Chicago White Sox, the club that was doomed by the experts to die of loneliness in the dreary confines of the American league basement.

Apparently the White Sox have different ideas on the subject. Judging from today's standings, the Sox not only are very much alive, but are making some of the other teams roll over and play dead.

The end of the first week of play finds the Sox tied with the Philadelphia Athletics for second place, only half a game behind the fast-moving New York Yankees. They have won five and lost only two, all their victories coming in a row.

Splendid pitching by Bill Wight and Randy Gumpert yesterday enabled the White Sox to whip the St. Louis Browns twice, 2-1 and 4-0, giving them a sweep of the four-game series. Wight needed the help of some swell relief pitching by Matt Surkont, Rochester drafted, and a two-run ninth inning rally by his mates to escape being charged with a 1-0 setback. Surkont, who worked the ninth, got the victory. Gumpert's performance was more glib-edged. He permitted only three singles and allowed no Brownie runner to pass second base.

Nats Drop Sixth Straight

The Athletics continued to fatten up at the expense of Washington pitchers, combining Sid Hudson and two relievers for 12 hits to whip the Senators 8-3. It marked the sixth straight loss for the Nats, who have not won since opening day. Lou Brissie went the distance for the second time in a row, notching his second triumph on a five hitter. The Boston Red Sox continued to flounder around, dropping their fourth game in six starts, when the Yankees came from behind to defeat them, 9-4. Trailing 4-0, the Bronx Bombers scored six runs in the eighth, and added three more in the ninth to salt away their fifth triumph against only one loss.

Brooklyn's scrappy Dodgers retained their half-game margin in the National league race, splitting a doubleheader with the Phillies in Philadelphia. The Phils won the opener, 7-4, and the Dodgers took the second, 6-5. Home runs by Richie Ashburn, Stan Lopata and Eddie Miller highlighted the Phils victory.

Reds Split With Pirates

The Cincinnati Reds fell into a second place tie with the New York Giants when they divided a twin bill with the Pirates in Pittsburgh. The Reds won the first game, 3-2, and 4-0, giving them a sweep of the four-game series. Wight needed the help of some swell relief pitching by Matt Surkont, Rochester drafted, and a two-run ninth inning rally by his mates to escape being charged with a 1-0 setback. New York Stock Market

New York, April 25—(P)—Stocks settled into a lower price range today in one of the quietest markets in the last month.

Losses ran from fractions to around a point, although here and there some individual issues pushed ahead.

Trading was at the rate of about 700,000 shares for the entire day.

Rails, Metals and Chemicals were mixed. Farm implements and mail order & retail shares drifted lower. Utilities were irregular. Steels were lower most of the day but came back in late trading.

Leaning to the downside were General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Great Northern preferred, Illinois Central, Standard Oil (N.J.), American Woolen, International Paper, Sears Roebuck, and International Harvester.

Tending higher were Goodrich, Western Union, and Union Pacific. Bonds were quiet and a bit lower while U. S. government securities in the over the counter market were firm and quiet.

WHEAT PRICES SINK IN LATE DEALINGS: LOSE EARLY GAINS

Chicago, April 25—(P)—Wheat prices sank toward the close on the Board of Trade today. Earlier gains of small fractions were given up and losses running to around a cent were substituted. Selling was not heavy but the market had very little support.

The slump in wheat had some influence on other grains, although corn held up fairly well. This was particularly true of the May contract. Relatively small cash receipts for Monday and a steady price for the cash grain helped the May future. Oats had a highly erratic appearance. May was weak, dropping more than a cent. In contrast, the December contract, which fell nearly 3 cents yesterday, had a small gain most of the session.

Receipts were: Wheat 25 cars, corn 109 lots 81 and soybeans 12. Wheat closed 1-1/4 lower, May $2.23-1/4, corn was 1/2 lower to 1-1/2 higher, May $1.34-1/4, oats were 1/2 lower to 1-1/2 higher, May $1.66-1/4, rye was 1/2 to 3 cents lower, May $1.26-1/2, soybeans were 1/2 lower, May $2.23-1/2, and hard was 7 to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $11.52.

51st Annual Greene County Track Meet At Roodhouse Thursday

By John Campbell

The 51st Annual Greene county track and field meet will be held at the Roodhouse high field Thursday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock. Carrollton, White Hall, Greenfield, Roodhouse, Hillview, Kane and Eldred are the teams entered this year.

Coach Bradley's Hawks of Carrollton are the defending champs. They have copped three triangular meets this year and have plenty of point makers on hand to defend their title.

Gale Staples of Carrollton is the top pole vaulter. He jumped 12 ft. 6 in. at Roodhouse last week in a three-way meet with Roodhouse and Jerseyville. Bob Brannan of the Hawks is a fine 440 yard runner and Dick Ridings is the discus thrower and low hurdler.

White Hall has a fine frosh-soph relay team. They tied the Maroon-Jay-Hawk record last week at White Hall.

Bennett Roodhouse of White Hall is the shot put defending champion and he tosses the iron ball around 46 feet consistently. This fine weight man is among the best in the discus throw event. Barnd of White Hall is a fine pole vaulter and he might give Staples all the competition he desires in that meeting Thursday. Staples beat Barnd 3 inches last week in the pole vault at White Hall.

Winners of the events of the Greene county meet last year that are back this year are Ridings of Carrollton in the 200 yard low hurdles; Brannan of Carrollton in the 440 yard dash. (Brannan competed for Eldred last year.) Gale Staples of Carrollton in the pole vault and Bennett Roodhouse of White Hall in the shot put.

Gale Staples might break the pole vault mark of 11 ft. 31 inches held by another former Carrollton vaulter, Shorty Voiles, now an outstanding athlete at Rolla, Mo. college.

Former winners of the Greene county track and field meet: 1923—White Hall; 1924—White Hall; 1925—Greenfield; 1926—White Hall; 1927—White Hall; 1928—White Hall; 1929—Greenfield; 1930—White Hall; 1931—Greenfield; 1932—White Hall; 1933—Greenfield; 1934—White Hall; 1935—Carrollton; 1936—White Hall; 1937—Carrollton; 1938—Carrollton; 1939—Roodhouse; 1940—Carrollton; 1941—Carrollton; 1942—Carrollton; 1943—Roodhouse; 1944—Roodhouse; 1945—Roodhouse; 1946—Roodhouse; 1947—Roodhouse; 1948—Carrollton.

The dual-meet was all tied up until the Roodhouse relayers came through with a victory in the final event to put the meet on ice for coach Campbell.

The Roodhouse track team will be host to the annual Greene county meet Thursday afternoon. Teams entering the affair are Roodhouse, White Hall, Carrollton, Greenfield, Hillview and Eldred.

New York, April 25—(P)—Vic Raschi pitched the New York Yankees to a 3-2 decision over his old "cousins," the Philadelphia Athletics, today with the help of two errors by Shortstop Eddie Joost in the fourth inning. Raschi allowed 5 hits to 6 by his opponent, Joe Coleman.

Raschi, who has beaten the A's nine out of 10 times in his brief major league career, chalked up his second straight win of the season. He shut out Washington in his first start.

Joost, usually a smooth fielder, messed up a grounder by Bill Johnson in the fourth after Yogi Berra opened the inning with a single. Then he threw wildly to third base trying to get Berra for his second error. Berra scored on the play. Dick Kryhoski's single a hard smash that handoffed second baseman Pete Suder, added the second score.

The Yankees got to Coleman for a run in the first when Gerry Coleman walked, stole second, took third on a sacrifice bunt and scored on Johnny Lindell's fly.

Boston Braves Whip Brooklyn In 3-0 Contest

Brooklyn, April 25—(P)—Big Bill Voiselle tamed Brooklyn with six hits today as the Boston Braves whipped the Dodgers, 3-0, in the first meeting this year of the National League's co-favored teams.

Jim Russell drove in two runs with a single in the third inning and Earl Torgeson homered in the fifth to give the husky right-handed pitcher a good working margin.

Voiselle, in racking up his first victory of the year, walked only one batter and fanned five. Left-hander Morrie Martin, rookie lefthander up from St. Paul, was touched for four of the Boston hits and all of their runs in the seven innings he pitched. He sprained a tendon in his left arm and was forced to leave the game.

The Braves broke the scoreless duel in the third. With one out, Alvin Dark singled and Torgeson walked. Bob Elliott advanced the runners with a slow bounceout to short and Russell sent them home with a single to left.

Moose-Legion Unites To Form Baseball League

Paul Hartman, director of the Jacksonville YMCA program, announced yesterday that the American Legion and Moose Lodge have combined their efforts in bringing about a renaissance of "kid baseball" in Jacksonville.

In a meeting held in the "Y" clubrooms last night, representatives of the two groups met with Hartman and laid the foundation for a four-team junior baseball league.

The three-man board decided to call another meeting May 6, 7:30 p.m. and invited any and all persons who would be interested in sponsoring a team of boys this summer.

Strict adherence to the rule of American Legion Junior Baseball will be observed. If a boy was 17 before last January 1st, he is too old to compete in the loop.

If plans proceed according to schedule an all-star team of boys from this league will be picked at the end of the summer to represent Jacksonville in the annual American Legion national baseball tournament.

World's Smallest Woman Dies At 74

Waycross, Ga., April 25—(P)—A midget billed as the "world's smallest woman," 21-inch tall Miss Marcia De La Cruz, died here Sunday.

The 74-year-old native of Panay, Philippine Islands, had been in ill health for nearly eight years. She was stricken seriously last week in Blackshear, Ga., where she was appearing with a traveling show.

Roodhouse Track Team Wins Meet From White Hall

Roodhouse — Mason Campbell's Roodhouse speedsters came through with a final burst of speed in the varsity relay to cop the annual Railroaders-Maroon dual track meet from their White Hall neighbors on their own cinders yesterday afternoon. The final tally showed Roodhouse owning 63 points and White Hall with 55.

Ben Roodhouse, White Hall shot put artist, chunked the iron ball 45 ft. 6 inches to crack the meet record at 43 ft., previously held by Love, also of White Hall.

The dual-meet was all tied up until the Roodhouse relayers came through with a victory in the final event to put the meet on ice for coach Campbell.

The Roodhouse track team will be host to the annual Greene county meet Thursday afternoon. Teams entering the affair are Roodhouse, White Hall, Carrollton, Greenfield, Hillview and Eldred.

The Summary:

Blueboys Win Initial CCI Diamond Tilt; Play Again Here Saturday

Joe Brooks' Illinois College baseball club won its initial tussle in the Little-Nine competition yesterday afternoon when they journeyed to Augustana and brought home an 8 to 3 victory.

John Maynard, lanky right-hander, tucked another win under his belt as he led the Hilltoppers to this CCI league lid-lifting win. He allowed 12 Augie batters to hit safely but kept them effectively scattered throughout the contest. Big John's control was excellent, he issued only 3 free-tickets to first base.

Repair Of Causeway Across Lake At Park Will Be Up For Vote

Repair of the causeway across Morgan lake at Nichols park, which has been closed to automobile traffic nearly a year, will be put to citizens of Jacksonville at a special bond issue election, according to a decision reached by the council last night after receiving a recommendation by the park board.

The election calling for issuance of $27,000 in bonds probably will be set for May 28, although the exact date has not been determined.

"People have been after us to get the causeway fixed," John Agger, chairman of the park board, said while addressing the council.

He explained that the present operating funds of the park board are insufficient to repair the causeway, undermined and weakened by action of the water over a long period of years. Mr. Agger said the park board has studied the problems at length, and has received an estimate of the cost of repairs. He and other park board members believe a bond issue is the logical method by which to put the causeway into good condition again, affording the public access to the south side of the park where the dining pavilion, picnic tables and playground equipment is located.

Louis A. Cain and Ray Steinheimer, members of the park board, joined Mr. Agger in the presentation of facts about the proposed repairs.

Employ Special Counsel

A resolution introduced by Alderman Henderson, seconded by Alderman Weaver, to employ Walter Bellatti as special counsel to prepare an ordinance calling for an election on a bond issue, was passed by the council.

Mr. Agger said he has conferred with the board of education and the ward schools will be available as polling places. Councilmen mentioned Saturday, May 28, as a probable date for the election.

Mayor Hoagland, who has been indisposed for several days from an attack of flu, and Alderman James Flynn, also a flu sufferer, were able to attend last night's session.

First Arms Sent To Europe Must Be Able To Stop USSR

Washington, April 25.—(P)—The first American arms which would go to western Europe under the proposed military aid program would be weapons judged necessary to prevent a successful Russian sweep over the European continent.

This strategy was disclosed today by government officials who are drafting legislation for $1,300,000,000 in arms shipments to Atlantic Pact nations. The weapons particularly needed to halt any quick offensive, they said, include American armor, anti-tank weapons and artillery.

Top-ranking American military strategists believe that with American help, western Europe can stand off any invasion of the continent by Russia.

These government authorities say that this, at present, is the considered view of the Truman administration.

Defense In Coplon Trial Accuses U.S. Of 'Terrorism'

Washington, April 25.—(P)—Defense counsel today accused the government of "terrorism" in the double indictment of Judith Coplon, 27, former justice department employee, charged with plotting to pass U. S. secrets to a Russian agent.

Miss Coplon's trial opened here today on an indictment accusing her of unlawfully removing documents from justice department files. She is also under indictment on espionage conspiracy charges in New York.

Defense Attorney Archibald Palmer contended the Washington indictment, voted after she had pleaded innocent in New York, was brought "in an effort to break her down so she would tell what they thought she knew."

Palmer denounced the twin actions as "double jeopardy" and "a mockery of justice," and declared: "There was no necessity outside of terrorism to indict her all over again."

Palmer also argued that the Washington indictment should be dismissed because nine of the 17 grand jurors were government employees.

Defense In Coplon Trial Accuses U.S. Of 'Terrorism'

Washington, April 25.—(P)—Defense counsel today accused the government of "terrorism" in the double indictment of Judith Coplon, 27, former justice department employee, charged with plotting to pass U. S. secrets to a Russian agent.

Miss Coplon's trial opened here today on an indictment accusing her of unlawfully removing documents from justice department files. She is also under indictment on espionage conspiracy charges in New York.

Defense Attorney Archibald Palmer contended the Washington indictment, voted after she had pleaded innocent in New York, was brought "in an effort to break her down so she would tell what they thought she knew."

Palmer denounced the twin actions as "double jeopardy" and "a mockery of justice," and declared: "There was no necessity outside of terrorism to indict her all over again."

Palmer also argued that the Washington indictment should be dismissed because nine of the 17 grand jurors were government employees.

Robert Howard Berry, 26, of 530 North Sandy street, was fatally wounded about noon Sunday when a 22 caliber target pistol in the hands of his friend, Henry Edwards, was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking Berry in the forehead.

Berry died at Passavant hospital at 3:20 o'clock Sunday afternoon without regaining consciousness.

The accident occurred in the yard of the Edwards home at 531 North Sandy street.

According to testimony at an inquest conducted by Coroner Clarence H. Muelhausen at the Gillham Funeral Home Monday morning, Edwards and a group of friends had been target shooting in the Edwards yard during the morning.

Following the target practice the men cleared their guns and put them away. Later James Miller went to a car and got out a target pistol and took it over to the Edwards yard where a number of men began examining it.

Put In 3 Cartridges

James Miller testified that after the gun had been cleaned he put three cartridges into the cylinder, but that he did not tell anyone that the "gun was loaded."

Witnesses testified that the gun was finally handed to Edwards who cocked it and as he waved it into the air, the gun was discharged, the bullet striking Berry squarely in the forehead.

The wounded man was placed in an automobile by Edwards and another man and taken to Passavant Hospital, where he died within three hours.

Several of the witnesses told the jurors that Edwards and Berry were the best of friends and that they often took trips together. They also said that none of the men in the party had been drinking and that everyone was congenial and were just "playing" and having a good time.

It was brought out in the testimony that the gun was the property of Lee Samples.
